Guard Annexation By Army Proposed As UMT Substitute

Act Would Double Power of Army; Suggestion Made by Advisory Committee

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—A drastic revision of the nation's traditional military policy was urged today to permit the Army to annex the National Guard.

This politically explosive recommendation by a special defense department advisory committee would double the Army's current strength of about 600,000. It would, in effect, serve as a short-term manpower substitute for universal military training.

The suggested change in Guard status was part of a general recommendation that each of the armed services should have a single federal reserve force on which to draw as needed in event of a national emergency.

The board headed by Assistant Army Secretary Gordon Gray reported that, judged on the basis of national security, the National Guard and other reserve groups "are now capable of participating effectively in major combat operations."

Secretary of Defense Forrestal appointed the six-man study commission last November. He said the report at present does not represent the Defense Department's views and he turned it over to three civilian chiefs of the armed forces for further study.

Opposition to the annexation proposal followed quickly after release of the report.

One of the National Guard's "will fight to the last ditch," Brig. Gen. Charles H. Grahb said last night.

Grahb, the adjutant general for Iowa, told a reporter in Cedar Rapids:

"We will fight the plan through Congress. I think there are enough former governors in Congress to get it out of the last ditch. All the states will join hands in fighting this thing."

The board said however, that Continued on Page Fourteen

Road Oil Burns, Connelly Excited

Pole, Trees Are Singed as Flames Leap; Cause Unknown

Fire and excitement spread over a street in Connelly for a few minutes early yesterday afternoon when a truck spreading road oil and part of the street surface caught fire.

Effective action by Merlino "Dutch" DuBois of Glenford, driver of the truck, who shut off the oil and kept the vehicle moving, prevented serious damage, various witnesses said.

DuBois drove the truck toward the waterfront as flames spread an estimated 100 feet along the road behind him as they enveloped the rear of the vehicle. Sand shoveled by James A. Brice, of Connelly, who was near the scene at the time, and crushed stone thrown by workmen, helped quell the blaze.

Flames on both the truck and the street reached considerable height, Terpening said, and others reported that trees along the road and a telephone pole were singed.

Fire Chief James Carlson of the Connelly Fire Department said that an extinguisher was used to quell flames which were still burning Continued on Page Twenty-one

Kids Win Pool

Okmulgee, Okla., Aug. 11 (AP)—Kids of Okmulgee got their feet wet in politics yesterday but won't take the real plunge until sometime next summer.

They wanted a new municipal swimming pool, so here's what they did:

Organized their own campaign for the bond election, solicited funds to pay for newspaper and radio advertising, held a big parade and operated an auto service to take voters to the polls.

They won the battle for the $125,000 swimming pool by a vote of 737 to 609.

Farmers May Give Cure for H.C.L. as Crops Hit Record

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Farmers are well on their way today toward supplying a cure for high prices for their own products.

Aided by very favorable weather, they are headed for a crop harvest which is expected not only to break all production records but to end food shortages and, in time, bring lower prices in the corner stores.

An Agriculture Department report yesterday forecast this year's grain production as the largest ever—by a wide margin. No longer is there a grain shortage. In fact there will be a surplus if latest estimates are borne out.

This bountiful prospect already has led to a sharp decline in grain prices from the post war peak of last January.

Officials said a similar decline in prices of meats, dairy and poultry products will follow as soon as farmers can convert the grains—through livestock feedings—into these finished food items.

The effects of this convention should begin to be felt, they said, no later than next spring.

The department report included the forecast of an amazing crop of 3,506,000,000 bushels. This tops the 1946 record by 257,000,000 bushels and last year's very poor one by 1,106,000,000.

The boost in feed supplies will not be limited to corn. Near record crops of oats, and grain and poultry products will follow as soon as farmers can convert the grains—through livestock feedings—into these finished food items.

Fighting Is Heavy in Palestine

Sharpest Battle Occurs Since Cease Fire Order Was Imposed by U.N.

Bernadotte Declares He Will Do All He Can for Peace

Jerusalem, Aug. 11 (AP)—Guns and artillery resounded from midnight to dawn today in the heaviest fighting here since the U. N. cease fire was imposed.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator who said he was going to get tough in order to stop the shooting, was here and heard it all. The U. N. officer has put 50 more American and French observers on the job in an effort to restore peace.

(A Tel Aviv source close to the Israeli cabinet predicted New Jerusalem and its Arab quarters will be annexed to Israel within two weeks. He said the cabinet already has decided secretly to take the step. The Arabs hold the old city, which is about a fourth of the total area.)

The unofficial battle reached its height in Jerusalem around 3 a. m. Rifle shots and automatic fire broke out by the thousand. Artillery, seemingly from a distance, was audible throughout the city. White and green flares lit up the sky so Arabs and Jews could spot the fighting.

Official Jewish sources said Arabs "who continue to violate the truce" attacked Jewish positions on Mt. Zion from the old walled city.

Most fighting was in the nearby hills and outskirts. Mank bullets whizzed through streets in the center of town, however.

Bernadotte, after another warning to the leading Jewish and Arab representatives, spent the night at a house on neutralized Mt. Scopus east of Central Jerusalem. He planned to leave Palestine late today for headquarters on Rhodes.

Col. Frank Begley, chief U. N. observer in Jerusalem, was to leave today for Lake Success to report on the local truce situation.

Bernadotte expressed concern over the shooting.

"I want this shooting stopped," the United Nations mediator for Palestine told a news conference yesterday. "My position is going to be tougher and tougher. X X X. I want to show both parties that I can be serious."

(In Alexandria, a source close to the Arab League said a Jewish invitation to start Palestine peace talks has been rejected. The informant said the league, responding to an invitation received by Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok through Bernadotte, declared the Arabs do not recognize "any such gang as the Pseudo-Government of Israel.")

The 30 additional observers arrived yesterday. Twenty-five already were on the job. Bernadotte said he hoped to have all truce violations spotted and investigated and responsibility for them assessed. If necessary, he informed the Jewish and Arab commanders, more observers will be called.

Babe Ruth Very Ill at Hospital

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Babe Ruth, baseball's ailing homerun king, was reported in critical condition today at Memorial Hospital.

The hospital said Ruth had developed a higher temperature and there were pulmonary complications.

On Monday he was reported as having a cold but yesterday the hospital said his condition seemed improved and the temperature had gone down.

The hospital bulletin said: "Babe Ruth's temperature again has risen. There are pulmonary complications. Condition critical."

Ruth has been undergoing a series of treatments in the hospital.

He has been ill for nearly two years. Late in 1946 he entered French Hospital, where he underwent a delicate neck operation. He left the hospital last year, and was seen in public on a few occasions, chiefly in connection with activities for the Babe Ruth Foundation.

He has spent vacations in Florida and in the past few months has attended baseball games where he received tributes from fans, old and young. His old New York Yankees uniform, number three, was retired recently.

Maybank Wins in Carolina, White Defeats B.B. Brigham

(By The Associated Press) South Carolina, Arkansas and Idaho Democrats appeared to have their nominees all picked today for major November political contests.

Candidates for at least one of South Carolina's three contested Congressional posts seemed headed for runoff elections, but Senator Burnet R. Maybank held a clear 10,000-vote majority over four competitors for his Senate seat, with returns almost complete.

Group Will Talk With Teacher

Subcommittee Will Go to New York to Get Testimony; Recess Is Planned

Denies Chambers Collins Says He Never Knew Senior Editor of Magazine

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Russian embassy today was drawn directly into congressional hearings of alleged Communist wartime spying.

Elizabeth T. Bentley, who says she is a former Red spy, returned to the witness chair of the House Un-American Activities Committee and testified that Anatol Gromov, first secretary of the embassy, paid her $2,000 in October, 1945.

She also said he told her the Soviet Supreme Council had awarded her a medal.

Her story of the money and the medal had been disclosed by committee members earlier, but she pointed for the first time to the embassy as the source.

Miss Bentley, who says she gave her story to the F.B.I. in August, 1945, also told the committee:

"The F.B.I. has told me that in checking all of the evidence I have given them they never have found any major discrepancy."

The committee put Miss Bentley back on the stand after hearing Henry H. Collins Jr., a former military government officer, deny that he was ever a spy for a foreign country, but refuse to say whether he is or has been a Communist.

Will Talk With Samarin Before he took the stand, Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.) announced that a special subcommittee will go to New York tomorrow to take testimony in closed session from Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, former Russian school teacher.

Other members said there are plans also to send a subcommittee—perhaps of one man—to Canada to get a statement from Igor Gouzenko, the former Russian clerk who was responsible for breaking the Canadian Atom Bomb Spy Case.

It was disclosed, too, that the committee contemplates a recess of the hearings here.

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) told reporters the committee will be in recess "all next week" at least.

Collins, who is now executive director of the American-Russian Institute in New York, held various government jobs before the war.

"I never have engaged in espionage for, nor been an agent of, a foreign power. I do not believe in the overthrow of the government by force or violence or by any other means. As far as I know, I have never violated any law of the United States."

Whittaker Chambers, now a senior editor of Time Magazine, told the committee last week that Collins was associated with a "Communist underground" in Washington before the war. Chambers, an avowed former Communist, described Collins as the treasurer and dues collector for the Washington group.

Collins denied on the stand ever having known Chambers, but he refused to say whether he had Continued on Page Twenty-one

Finn Free on Bail

Glen Falls, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—John C. Finn was freed in $7,500 bail today pending outcome of appeal of his conviction on a charge of assaulting a New York city nurse shortly before she drowned a year ago. Finn, 23, former Lake George summer hotel bellhop, posted surety bond in State Supreme Court and planned to leave immediately for his home in Stamford, Conn. District Attorney, J. Clarence Herlihy said he expected the appeal would be argued before the Appellate Division in Albany in the November term. Finn was brought to Warren county jail last night from Clinton Prison at Dannemora.

Health Institute Arranged by TB, School Authorities

Plans have been completed for a school health institute to be conducted by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association in cooperation with the Myron J. Michael School of Kingston and Kerhonkson public schools. All teachers and school nurses of Ulster county are invited to attend.

The sessions will commence on Tuesday, Aug. 24, and through a three-day period will operate from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

Members of the institute committee are: Chairman, Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of Kingston city schools; Lester J. Roosa, superintendent District No. 3 of Ulster county; Clifford L. Hall, principal of Myron J. Michael School; Roland A. Reigel, supervising principal, Kerhonkson public schools; Katherine M. Murphy, R.N., executive secretary, Ulster County T.B. and Health Association; coordinator, William T. Healy, health education assistant, Ulster County T.B. and Health Association.

According to the committee the purpose of the institute is to develop a closer understanding of school health problems among the community health agencies, public school administrators, school nurses, and teachers through discussion consideration of recent school health trends. The areas of discussion will center around general school health, mental hygiene, and social hygiene. Discussions for the first day's program at M.J.M. School are: Roland A. Reigel, Dr. John R. Roberts, Miss Adele Didrickson, R.N., and Miss Katherine M. Murphy, R.N.

On the second day the institute will be located at Kerhonkson High School where mental hygiene aspects of the school health program will be discussed by Miss Jessie Prisch, R.N., William T. Healy, Dr. W. A. Longshore, and Clifford L. Hall.

The last session on social hygiene will return to M.J.M. School on Thursday where the panel will consist of Jeanne DuBois, Dr. George James, the Rev. Herbert Gibney, and Miss Mary Kelly.

Miss Eleanor Green, field representative of the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, will act as consultant throughout the three sessions. Committee members have expressed keen enthusiasm in having obtained the services of Miss Green who comes to the institute with a wide experience of matters concerning school health.

Immediately following the last session on Thursday, Aug. 26, a luncheon will be served in the cafeteria of M.J.M. School through the cooperation of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the two sponsoring schools and the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Legalized Prostitution May Lose at Reno

Reno, Nev., Aug. 11 (AP)—Legalized prostitution, which for the past month has been making a stab at regaining its prewar eminence in this otherwise wide open resort town, appeared today to be on its way out.

Church and other civic groups concerned with the morals and health of the community dealt vice a death blow recently when they reopened a campaign against prostitution.

The city council now has taken action to repeal the city ordinance which permits licensed prostitution on the outskirts of Reno. The council will make its final decision on August 23 and it is generally agreed that prostitution will lose.

For health reasons, prostitution was outlawed here during the war. There was an air base just outside Reno and the air forces wanted no part of a legalized red light district in the area.

Vice interests reopened houses of prostitution last July 9 when

So the Rooster Laid an Egg

Sydney, Australia, (AP)—A rooster at Oakleigh, Victoria, has astonished its Australian owner, B. J. Finch by laying an egg. The egg was spherical and about three-quarters of an inch in diameter, much smaller than the average hen egg. The egg contained only white without trace of yolk. As far as Finch knew, the bird was a normal rooster, but expert opinion is that it must have been at least half a hen with both male and female sex glands developed. Hens can occasionally turn into roosters but the reverse process does not occur. On rare occasions, generally late in life, the vestigial male organs in hens begin to develop and mature. Hormones from the male organs bring about the secondary male sexual characteristics: crowing, male comb, lobes and hackles. The hen has become functionally and in appearance a rooster.

Proclamation

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today proclaimed Friday and Saturday, August 13 and 14, as tag day for the New Central Baptist Church. The money raised is to be used for the completion of the new church building, which has been under construction for two years, according to the Rev. Philip N. Saunders, pastor. The mayor's proclamation follows:

To the Citizens of Kingston:

As you know, the New Central Baptist Church in the downtown section of our city, which has been under construction for a period of some two years, has not been completed yet. We all know the vital need of this colored church in our city and I do feel that we would be doing ourselves a great justice if we, the citizens of Kingston, would get behind the Rev. Mr. Saunders and his good people in aiding them to complete this new church, on which they have labored so hard.

I, therefore, proclaim Friday and Saturday, August 13 and 14, for a Tag Day for this church. Let us get behind this church and help the congregation complete it so they have a place of their own in which to worship.

They are now holding their services at the Y.M.C.A. building and have been doing so for two years, while laboring hard for this new church which will be known as the New Central Baptist Church at 229 East Strand.

I ask that you give freely for this good and worthy cause.

OSCAR V. NEWKIRK, Mayor.

Tractor Overturns At Bridge Entrance

A tractor-trailer owned by Joseph Sando, Johnstown, overturned near the entrance of the Mid-Hudson Bridge at Highland at about 3 p. m. yesterday, the state police at Highland reported today.

The vehicle, loaded with calves, was driven by Nick Hamilton of Gloversville, who reported no injuries. The driver was apparently unable to make the turn near the Highland entrance of the bridge and the heavy vehicle overturned against the stone wall there, the police said. It was sufficiently clear of the highway to permit two-way traffic, the police said, but travel over the route was tied up briefly as it was being righted.

BUDGETS

Administrators of public funds frequently seem unfamiliar with the old, forgotten maxim which adjures us to cut our coat according to the cloth. It must have been recalled, however, at a recent meeting of schoolmen in Athens, O., where the educators formulated a plan for changing the administrative set-up in order to provide a more efficient school system for the state.

The carrying-out of this plan, which would involve sweeping changes, particularly in rural districts, would not involve a drive for more money. This remarkable fact was brought out by the statement that more education for Ohio's school children would be provided for the same amount of money now being spent annually on schools.

This statement merits attention. In a day when everybody wants more money for everything, it is astonishing to find a group of administrators who calmly contemplate changes and improvements which can be achieved by staying within the financial limits which bind them.

Public funds are often considered by their users to have unlimited elasticity. Budget systems, which have proved to be the financial salvation of many private individuals, seem to have a different meaning to the disburers of the tax money. The example set by these Ohio administrators might profitably be followed elsewhere, and taken note of in Washington.

HITTING THE JACKPOT

The radio jackpot. If the Federal Communications Commission means what it says, it is about to be "hit" with finality. The commission has moved to put a stop to all give-away programs which are based on lot or chance. That takes care of most of them.

While the F.C.C. announced its intention in the shape of a new set of rules, it is not bringing forth anything new in the way of regulations, nor is it creating arbitrary policy. Lotteries are prohibited in the communications act; the same kind of prohibition applies to newspapers, magazines and other matter sent through the mails. The F.C.C. has shown admirable restraint in issuing a warning and giving the radio stations a few weeks to clear their own air before putting its new rules into effect.

No doubt the commission's move will arouse some resentment among avid followers of the give-away programs, who hope any day to tie into one of the juicy jackpots. But thoughtful listeners will welcome the reform, regretting only that it was necessary for a government agency to make it.

BOYCOTT

The spreading boycott of high-priced meat initiated by Texas housewives appeals strongly to the yearning to do something about high prices. But it will take much spread and much sharp-eyed planning to make the boycott anything but a balm for outraged feelings.

To have any appreciable effect on meat prices, boycott would have to cover a large enough area to reduce the total demand for meat. As long as the over-all demand is no smaller than the supply, high-priced meat will go where there is a market for it, and the price level will not drop.

If a boycott should become strong enough to force meat prices down, then planning would come into the picture. The housewife boycotting meat would have to substitute for it foods in surplus supply. Otherwise demand would draw the prices of substitutes upward as meat prices were driven downward, and the net gain on the cost of living would be zero.

We are attracted by the idea of an army of housewives attacking the high price of food. But a very smart general is needed to make it work.

NEW VACATION SPOT

An exciting boat trip may be available in a year or two. A New York shipping company announces the establishment of freight service 1,000 miles up the Amazon river, with a prospect of adding passenger ships later. Trial trips have proved that freight service will pay. This country will benefit,

THE FLIGHT OF THE MET

The directors of the Metropolitan Opera House were sound in their decision to close down for the 1948-49 season when they found it impossible to operate their enterprise efficiently. Maybe before this appears in print, the labor unions involved will realize that management has a right to operate its enterprises efficiently. This is really the issue at stake.

Did you ever watch an electrician do a job by slow motion? I often wonder whether they carry stop-watches to guide them to do the least possible work during the longest possible time at the highest possible wages? If one lets one of these highway-men into his house, he mortgages his future. That is one of the main reasons why there is a housing shortage in this country. The contractor, who is responsible to the payer, stands about shaking his head in disgust. He has no rights in the matter; the union determines what is an efficient operation. But the union does not pay the bill.

Have you recently bought an automobile? Was it slapped together so that you had plentiful repairs during the first five hundred miles? True, you are guaranteed and the company sends you a check to cover repairs. But what about your time? What about being stuck on the road, miles from nowhere, with a car that is absolutely new but has broken carburetor or an air purifier with the top loose or one of a thousand other defects? Management can quarrel with the unions but it cannot establish old-time efficient operations. It has to be gentle with the incompetent, the inconsiderate, the inefficient.

Did you ever complain to the telephone operators, particularly the long distance girls who used to be the pride of the United States, because they cut you off? Where is the renowned efficiency of this best of all systems? They have had too many strikes.

The other day I called up a store to ask about a water-pump. A girl went into a rigamarole as to whether I wanted to buy the pump, or order from the catalogue. I said, "I want a pump." "I know that," she replied, "but do you want it on the floor or from the catalogue."

"Look, miss," I said, "I want a pump. Get me one from the catalogue, from the floor, from the warehouse, from Chicago, Philadelphia, or from General Wood himself, but get me a man who sells a pump."

"Don't shout at me," she said angrily. "A pump! A kingdom for a pump!" I wept. So she told me to call another number.

Finally, I got a man and, in a two-minute conversation over the telephone, I bought the pump, which was in my possession as soon as we got up to the store.

The first girl might have lost that sale, but what can management do? If they criticize her, she will accuse management of shouting at her even if they whisper that she is losing customers.

The Metropolitan Opera House cannot operate efficiently, because each year it has to enter into prolonged negotiations with 12 unions, the pivotal ones being very tough and always asking for more. If they do not want more wages, they want different working conditions or more for their social security. They tell management how many are to be in the chorus or by what slow motions the various jobs are to be done. It is impossible to hire stars, to make contracts with top-flight singers, to plan a program, to estimate costs until these negotiations are concluded. Then management has to go about the town, hat in hand, begging from opera-lovers to make up the deficit.

The argument of Petrillo's union that the Metropolitan belongs to the people and that management cannot shut it down is the bunk. If all management went on strike when it cannot operate efficiently and if the public stopped buying when it finds itself abused, this nonsense of inefficiency and featherbedding and just plain black-mailing would soon cease. The time has come to strike again.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PRESERVING THE TEETH

As a medical student I thought that if I ever could have the opportunity I would like to work out an "all round" food that could be carried in a pocket anywhere. This was before the discovery of vitamins. It is known that some races or tribes live practically on meat alone and others on vegetables and fruits only, although it is admitted that some tribes who are vegetarians often eat eggs, which contain proteins similar to those in meat.

What about foods and the teeth? In their desire to clothe their research in greater respectability, many students confine their investigations to the chemistry of food searching for a magic formula to make a cure for all dental ills. I am quoting Dr. Meyer Klatsky, New York, N. Y., in the Journal of the American Dental Association in an article, "Studies in the Dietaries of Contemporary Primitive Peoples."

Before discussing diets of primitive peoples, Dr. Klatsky suggests that we learn what constitutes an adequate diet for a normal human being. From the standpoint of nutrition, an adequate diet is one which supplies the body with all the food elements required for growth and repair of tissues and provides enough heat and energy for all the needs of the working processes of the body.

The necessary foods are: 1. Protein-building substances found in meat, fish, eggs, cereals. 2. Carbohydrates—the starches and sugars that supply heat and energy to the body. 3. Fats—Butter, cream, fat meats, nuts, (the most concentrated form of energy). 4. Mineral salts—Iron, calcium, phosphorus and others.

These substances, found in all body cells and fluids, are necessary for the proper working of the body processes. They also are required for the building of bones and teeth. 5. Vitamins—chemical substances whose main function is to "harmonize," or cause the various cells and processes of the body to work well together. 6. Water—dissolves substances and enters into formation of all cells.

As we look at the above list of foods, we know that we eat all of the six classes. However, a common mistake from the standpoint of general health, and particularly the teeth, is that we do not eat enough of the minerals and vitamins, as found in dairy products—milk, cream, butter, cheese—and green vegetables.

as well as the steamship company, by the opportunity to draw on the rich and untouched resources of the Amazon jungle. Rough roads are now available from the river to the interior, so that the products of the inland may be brought to the boats.

"I Wonder How Franklin Did It?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington — The real-estate lobby worked backstage with its pet congressional friends almost every minute of the special session. The lobby even engaged in writing free speeches for senators in order to kill the public housing bill.

Two crack writers for the real estate lobby even worked one night until 4 a. m. writing a speech for Senate Majority Leader Kenneth Wherry. It was quite a forensic masterpiece.

What happened was that the Republican National Committee had already sent Wherry a speech supposed to be the Republican answer to inflation. Among other things it described free enterprise as a system that provided little girls with plenty of bubble gum. And it compared the difference between the Democratic and Republican viewpoints to the number of bananas a peddler had for sale. The Democrats stood for one banana and considered the Republicans a monopoly, while the Republicans stood for 1,000 bananas. So said the G.O.P. ghost-writer.

Wherry read the script over once, tossed it into the wastebasket. "It couldn't have been worse if the Democratic National Committee had written it for me," he snorted.

Then he phoned real-estate lobbyist Cal Snyder for a new speech, asked for rush service to meet a radio deadline. Snyder assigned two of his men to stay up all night to write it.

Note—The real-estate lobby's most regular customer for speeches and research is Senator Harry Cain, Washington Republican.

Give Him Enough Rope
At the G.O.P. closed-door Senate caucus last week, Senator Charles Tobey, the New Hampshire firecracker, urged giving President Truman all the controls he wanted. Tobey recalled a dinner-table statement made by Indiana's Bill Jenner last year, that the best way to kill off Truman was to give him the controls he asked.

"If so many people want price control," snapped Tobey, "why not give it to them?"

Truman Moves Fast

A group of veterans got such prompt action from President Truman the other day that they didn't have time to finish asking him for what they wanted.

The veterans called at the White House to urge Truman to use his influence on House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn. They wanted Sam to quit stalling and sign the discharge petition to force a vote on the Taft-Henderson Wagner housing bill.

As Spokesman Jack Carter, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, began to explain their mission, the President interrupted.

"Sam has already signed," he explained. Carter recalled that the last time the veterans came to the White House they had pleaded for a special session of Congress. They got results that same week. "This time," laughed Carter, "the results were so fast that we got them before we even got around to asking."

President Truman informed his callers that he had just finished holding a press conference at which he had given Congress "the devil."

Amvet Representative Bob McLaughlin commented that his organization had been studying juvenile delinquency, had found that most cases could be traced back to the slum conditions which the public housing bill would correct.

That, said Truman, was one of the reasons he favored the public housing bill.

Note—Thanks to the real-estate lobby and Senator Taft's change of mind about his own housing bill, slum clearance and public housing was voted at the recent special session.

Wooling Back Dixiecrats
Harassed Democratic Chairman Senator Howard McGrath tried to coax southern senators back on speaking terms—socially, if not politically—by inviting the entire Democratic flock to a "harmony party."

The idea was to wash out the Mason-Dixon Line with free drinks and the promise to keep politics off the program. Despite this, a large southern bloc, led by South Carolina's obstinate Senator Olin Johnston, sulked at home.

All of them were set to attend when McGrath suddenly announced that segregation would be abolished at Democratic national headquarters.

Unhappily the timing was the same day as the McGrath party.

However, several less sensitive southerners, such as Florida's Spessard Holland and Alabama's John Sparkman, showed up anyway, and led the Democrats in singing "Dixie."

Florida's senior senator, Claude Pepper, who opposed President Truman at the Democratic National Convention, got the gathering off to a good start by proposing a toast to Truman. All the southerners rose except Mississippi's stubborn Jim Eastland. Finally, when other senators ribbed him, Eastland rose and joined in the Truman toast.

Senator Jim Murray of Montana followed up with a toast to McGrath. Vice-presidential candidate, Alben Barkley was next. He toasted after which McGrath announced that the only speeches tolerated would be stories. Senator Pepper promptly clamored for a story from Texas' Tom Connally, who led off with the tale of "Old Blue Nose."

A hired hand was brought back to Texas to fix a murder charge 15 years after he had disappeared. Said the senator from Texas, "Witness after witness testified that he looked like the hired man who committed the murder, but none could identify him positively and definitely. Even the star witness, an old Negro who used to hunt with the hired hand, when they got him on the witness stand wasn't absolutely sure."

"But the defense attorney made a great mistake," said Senator Connally. "He tried to cross up the old Negro."

"You say you can't identify this man positively," he asked.

"Then why do you still insist there is doubt in your mind that he may be guilty?"

"Well," replied the witness, "me an' the hired man used to hunt with mah dog, Ol' Blue Nose. After Ah seed this man at the jail, Ah couldn't rightly say if he was or he wasn't the man who done this murder. But as Ah wuz leavin' the jail he up and asked how wuz Ol' Blue Nose?"

Note—The party wound up by serenading McGrath with "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," singing "My Old Kentucky Home" for Barkley and "Deep in the Heart of Texas" for Senator Tom Connally.

Fleeing Congressmen

Using a two-year-old girl as an accomplice, a phony "Baptist preacher" fleeced soft-hearted congressmen the other day.

Calling at the office of Rep. Dwight Rogers, Florida Democrat, he told about his little church in Oakland Park, Fla. Rogers' office took up a collection of $35. Later the same gyp artist, pushing the two-year-old in a play-cart, touched Rep. Erastus F. George, Georgia Democrat, for another $10. This time the false preacher described his little church in Savannah, Ga.

"God bless you," he intoned as he pocketed the ten-spot. "Amen," chirped the two-year-old solemnly. (Copyright, 1948, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Man With Nomination in Mind Handled Evidence Presented to Federal Grand Jury

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 11—Now it comes out—a man high up in the Truman administration with an eye on a political nomination handled the presentation of evidence to the New York federal grand jury which failed to indict any of the persons alleged to have been part of the Communist "spy ring."

It was Assistant Attorney General T. Vincent Quinn, who, it is officially announced, now is going to accept the Democratic nomination for Congress from the fifth district in New York city.

For more than a year Mr. Quinn has been in charge of the Department of Justice's case before the federal grand jury. While 12 persons were indicted who were Communist members, nobody touching the Democratic administration in Washington was indicted, despite all the revelations of evidence before congressional committees in the last ten days.

Did Mr. Quinn present the case in such a way that the grand jury was not persuaded to indict? Did he present the case aggressively and request indictments and do in every way a creditable job?

Assuming that Mr. Quinn handled the task as well as anybody could and without any idea of whitewashing the Democratic administration in a political campaign year, the question still may be asked: What was lacking in the evidence or with the laws that require proof?

Can virtual disloyalty be practiced in America and yet no laws of the land be violated? If so, then congressional committees have every right to ask for every piece of evidence and all the transcripts of the testimony before the jury in order to determine whether further legislation is needed. That is the basic purpose of an investigating committee, though every now and then, as in the hearings as to Gen. Bennett Meyers, some evidence crops up in a congressional hearing that leads the Department of Justice to institute an indictment.

The American people will not like to believe that political prejudice was a factor in the presentation of the evidence to the grand jury. It will be argued from a technical basis that it is improper to disclose what steps are being taken or must be taken to assure their security. In such an emergency, testimony before a Congressional committee affords a means of clearing up a problem that is a source of genuine worry to the public. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Aug. 10—The sensational spy plot by which a daring band planted pro-American secret agents in the White House and key government departments continued to unfold today before the House committee to investigate pro-American activities. Official Washington reeled as George Spelvin, American, the arch-conspirator, flippantly sneered, "we even had a pro-American hidden in the Supreme Court!"

Mr. Spelvin, seemingly mild and harmless, was brought back to the witness stand under military guard. His examination under oath was resumed by Commissioner Boris Slupp, the lend-lease inquisitor from Moscow. Under the Marston-Taylor act, Mr. Spelvin faces probable indictment on charges of criminal patriotism. The maximum penalty is 50 years.

Commissioner Slupp reviewed Mr. Spelvin's tale that his neighbor, Charles Dunno, of suburban Dugan Heights, simply walked into the White House, joining a parade of Communist youth marching in for lunch with Eleanor the Great in 1940. According to Mr. Spelvin's story, Ivan Bogus, the famous Bulgarian movie producer, was on the main gate that day as captain of the White House guard. He said Mr. Bogus passed Mr. Dunno into the mansion when Mr. Dunno gave the password, "The United States she stinks!"

Thereafter, Mr. Spelvin had testified, Mr. Dunno just hung around the white house for more than six years. He slept in the Lincoln bed or any old bed and passed himself off as a member of the confidential palace staff by adopting a Harvard accent.

Now Mr. Spelvin, Commissioner Slupp with a snarl, "tell the committee how Mr. Dunno managed to subsist? What did he eat?"

"That was the worst of it all," Mr. Spelvin said sadly. "Personal ly, I don't see how the poor fellow stuck it out. He told me he used to lie awake in the Lincoln bed and almost go crazy thinking of those little rancid hamburgers with dill pickle and shredded onion—the little all-night grease joints around Washington. There was a great joint in the basement of the old girl's apartment and Charlie often had the run of that suite, because she was practically always on the road. He said he was so hungry that some nights when the wind was right he would sit there at the window in the dark and sniff the breeze of those onion hamburgers and just look like a dog."

"To test your story, tell me quickly: What was the dish they served most often in the White House?" the commissar demanded.

"That awful, damned—excuse me, Mr. Commissar—chicken salad," Mr. Spelvin said. "Mr. Dunno said they had it for breakfast, they had it for lunch, they had it for dinner. Day, Day, Day, Day, Day, Day, Lenin's birthday, all the great holidays, they had chicken salad. Just like caviar in Moscow, except the Russians get you stinko on vodka whereas in the White House, even Old Moose-jaw had to hide his gin in a hollow cane. That was why he always carried such a big cane. Twelve-gauge. She was wild on the subject of booze."

"He said after four days on chicken salad and that boiled fish they slung at people, Madam Chiang woke up General Watson in the middle of the night and sent him down to Ruby Foo's for a bucket of yocker-mein fungus, yunker-mushroom noodles, Charlie said she begged Madam Chiang for a little of this yocker-mein fungus and she made him trade her 150 of our new B-29s, 100 locomotives and a million dollars, cash, just for a little cold

Harmati Lane To Honor Musician

Woodstock, Aug. 10—At a regular meeting of the town board last Friday evening a resolution was adopted designating a lane turning right from Cooper Lake Hill on the Lake Hill road as Harmati Lane. Heretofore the lane has been known as Harmati Road, Van de Bogart Road and Davis Road with a great deal of confusion resulting because of its various names.

Action was taken on the resolution upon receipt of a petition requesting the new designation. Those signing the petition reside on the road in question and are Ruth S. Harmati, Frederick G. Cornell, Mrs. William Van de Bogart, Mrs. Joseph Cartright, Samuel Sigaloff, Sonia Rice and B. Hirschberg. It was learned that the name selected was done so as a tribute to the late Sander Harmati, who was an outstanding musician.

Supervisor Kenneth L. Wilson presided at the meeting which was attended by Grant Elwyn, town clerk, and Justices George Braendly, Joseph Fitzsimmons and Harrison Gridley.

Vaccinated Dogs Not to Run Loose

Woodstock, Aug. 10—Dave Meyer, dog warden, Town of Woodstock, is covering about 50 miles daily in answer to calls about dogs running loose. Meyer requests that dog owners obey the laws of the rabies quarantine which is expected to continue until some time in October.

Section 25, Article 3 of the New York State Rabies Law states that "during any such quarantine, any duly appointed dog warden or any peace officer shall, and any other person may seize and confine or kill any dog found at large in violation of this section. The person confining or killing under the provisions of this section, shall immediately report in writing, the fact relating thereto to the local health officer. Such persons shall not be held liable for damages for killing a dog found in violation of this section providing that the facts relating thereto have been reported to the health officer as herein required."

Meyer stated that some dog owners were under the impression that when their dogs had been inoculated, they could run loose, and said emphatically this is not so and all dogs must be confined to the owners' premises until the quarantine is lifted.

There are two contributions by Amy Small, Aurora and One Night I Could Not Sleep.

The purpose of this show is to present to the public the work of painters and sculptors who are little known.

Maverick Slates Musical Show

Woodstock, Aug. 10—The first musical production of the season will be presented at the Maverick Summer Theatre, beginning Wednesday evening, Aug. 11, and continuing through Sunday when the Maverick Players will be seen in "Get Away."

According to Tom Reddy, manager, the whole production is new and original and will have a large cast. The theme deals with the "things that perplex and confuse us here in the twentieth century... the things we would like to get away from."

Teaching Art Is Discussion Subject

Woodstock, Aug. 11—A lively discussion was heard on Sunday evening by a large audience when four well-known artists and instructors spoke "On Teaching Art." They were Arnold Blanch, Fletcher Martin, Arthur Wickeliser and Frederick Knight.

Blanch stated that "art cannot be taught" and in this statement Fletcher Martin was inclined to agree. Wickeliser and Knight stated that perhaps art could not be taught, but certainly painting, drawing and the necessary mechanics could. According to Martin, creative ability is something one has or doesn't have and one gathered that in his opinion, one could gain just as much without formal training. Arthur Wickeliser, instructor at the University of Louisiana and Frederick Knight, instructor at Columbia University, disagreed with Martin and they were in favor of the formal training.

The audience was composed of artists, art students, art teachers and the public and many interesting points were brought up during the general discussion period.

Doubts Dangers Great

Denver, Aug. 11 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower says he believes this country has "done pretty well" in keeping its major secrets to itself. "Of course," he said yesterday, "we can get hysterical about a spy scare. But our government is aware of these things. And I don't believe the dangers are great." The general, now president of Columbia University, made his statement at a news conference. One hour before the conference he and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here to begin a Colorado vacation which will last through August.

Five Local Moose
Members Will Go
To International

Five members of Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose, will leave Kingston on Saturday to attend the fraternity's 60th annual international convention at Mooseheart, Ill., and Chicago, August 15 to 19.

The local lodge will be represented by its delegate, Past Governor Anthony J. Erena. Others who will make the trip are Joseph Fabiano, the alternate, and Governor Stanley Setera, James Rua and John Gagliardi.

The first two days of the convention, which is expected to draw 25,000 to 50,000 visitors, will be held at Mooseheart, world-famed Child City located 35 miles west of Chicago. Mooseheart is a complete city with more than 150 buildings spread over 1,200 acres and is both home and school for nearly 1,000 children of deceased members of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Those attending the convention will be given an opportunity to see the residents of this city at work and play. The Mooseheart Cadet Corps, band and physical education department will stage a dress parade, drill, concert and athletic exhibition for visitors on Sunday, the opening day of the convention. There will also be a special memorial service for the late James J. Davis, founder of Mooseheart and director-general of the Moose for 41 years. He died last November.

During the memorial services, which will be conducted by Executive Director Malcolm R. Giles and Supreme Governor F. Roy Yoke, an eternal flame will be lighted to the memory of Mr. Davis, who in addition to founding Mooseheart and Moosehaven, also was U. S. Secretary of Labor under three presidents and three times was U. S. Senator from Pennsylvania.

After two days at Mooseheart, the convention will move to Chicago, where the Moose will hold business sessions at the Palmer House, and the Women of the Moose will hold their business sessions at the Stevens Hotel.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Camp Tri-Mount, the training and camping center of Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts of America, at East Jewett, opened its sixth and final week of the summer season Sunday with more than 60 Scouts from 12 units in attendance. The largest unit group in camp this week is that from Troop 14, Kingston, sponsored by St. Peter's Holy Name Society.

Twelve Scouts and their scoutmaster, Kenneth MacNeil, are occupying Campsite Three for the week. Assisting Mr. MacNeil is Ronald Davenport of Stone Ridge. Two feature programs highlight the schedule at Tri-Mount this week. Wednesday the Annual Gold Rush will be held. "Traprock Tess" and Sheriff Ramrod Pomeroy of Gopher Gulch will arrive in camp early Wednesday to provide entertainment for the prospectors and preserve law and order in the colony. Wednesday night the main lodge at camp will be transformed into a frontier hotel and the prospectors will celebrate the discovery of gold.

The second feature will be the burial of the camp history in the ashes of Saturday night's campfire. This traditional ceremony symbolizes the closing of the camp season and the history will be taken from its cache next summer at the opening campfire to be read to the new campers of 1949. Last Saturday night the regular awards campfire was held and the following merit badges were given to the Scouts who had worked all week on the requirements: Howard Pickstone, Troop 32, Sausage-making, woodcarving and metalwork; Conrad Martin, Troop 32, metalwork; William Neiffer, Troop 32, first aid, life saving and public health; Richard Langton and Walter Short of Troop 6, Kingston, rowing, life saving and athletics; Thomas Constant, Troop 70, Highland, canoeing; Richard Cummings, Troop 70, metalwork; John Schneider, Troop 70, canoeing; Carl Steinhof and Howard Schor of Troop 29, Ellenville, metalwork.

Camp unit leaders Peter Rider and John Gow were awarded the highly-regarded Paul Bunyan Axemen's Club emblems Saturday night. They are the second and third members of Ulster-Greene Council to qualify for this honor.

Vaudeville Returns

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Some of vaudeville's lost glory was regained last night—for a television program. The occasion was the opening of the American Broadcasting Company's key television station, WJZ-TV. Most of the inaugural program came from the stage of the Palace Theatre, formerly a mecca for vaudeville but now a movie house.

In Brazil, 400 different species of plants were found in an area of three square miles.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Cut a man in half, and he dies. Cut an army in half, and it usually is destroyed, too.

But one army severed in combat during the last war is still alive and flourishing. That is the American First Army, 30 years old this week.

It has traveled a long way and won many battles since it was formed in a La Porte-Sous-Juarre, France, by the late General of the Armies John J. Pershing in 1918.

Armies, like men of merit, sometimes fail to get the recognition they deserve. This has been the case with the First Army, now based at Fort Jay on Governors Island in New York harbor.

The wearers of the black "A" shoulder patch—insignia of the First Army—sometimes get annoyed with the public's tendency to confuse the achievements of their army with those of General George Patton's more widely known Third Army.

But this confusion is probably inescapable. The average American civilian knows little more about the organization of his armed forces than an Eskimo does about the hierarchy of the Episcopal Church.

In the public mind an army can really be glamorized only through a glamorous leader. And in the Second World War the flamboyant career of Two-Gun "George" Patton, alternately America's favorite hero and bad boy of the top brass, insured renown for the Third Army he commanded.

Not up to first

Patton was a great leader, and certainly a great leader doesn't have a bad army. But it is doubtful if the Third Army ever quite measured up to the First Army at its peak.

This is in no sense a criticism of the Third Army or the tremendous record it made in its sweep across France. But armies are elastic things, weakened or strengthened as divisions are taken from or added to them. An army one month may be only a planning headquarters containing a few thousand men; the next month it may be a fighting force numbered in the hundreds of thousands. Its morale depends upon the nature of the units that make it up and upon the quality of its leadership.

Because of its mobility, vast weight of arms, and high percentage of veteran troops the First Army is regarded by some military men as the mightiest single army in history.

Stood Up Under Tests

A great army is measured by its reaction to potential disaster as well as by its victories. The First Army, trained and led to France by Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley and later guided by Gen.

Courtney H. Hodges, stood up well under both tests.

It is proud of these "firsts":

First to hit the beaches of Normandy.

First to break the German iron ring in France—at St. Lo.

First into Paris.

First into Belgium.

First through the Siegfried Line.

First to take a German city—Aachen.

First across the Rhine—at Remagen.

First to link up with the Russians on the River Elbe.

But perhaps its finest stand was made in the "Battle of the Bulge" in the dark December of 1944. Split in two by a surprise 40-mile German armored breakthrough, the First Army rallied, threw back the enemy, healed its deep wound—and rolled on to victory.

Only a great army could have taken a spear thrust like that and survived.

These are the things the veteran First Army remembers. They explain why the newest recruit wears the big black "A" with pride. He's joined a team that never lost.

Czech Unions Blast Late Workers

Prague (AP)—Strenuous efforts are being made to reduce absenteeism and late arrival for work in Czechoslovakia's nationalized industries.

Premier Antonin Zapotocky has denounced latecomers as "saboteurs" of the nation's economic efforts. Propaganda is the chief weapon being used in an effort to cut down these figures.

At some factories, loudspeakers have been set up with a union leader at the microphone. Later arrivals may hear something like this: "Well, Comrade Svoboda, we hope this will be the last time you are late to work."

Or "Oh, Miss Cerna, we cannot imagine what made you 15 minutes late today."

MOTHER SAYS MUSCLE-RUB IS A GODSEND FOR RHEUMATIC PAIN

If you are suffering the agony of Rheumatic Arthritis, listen to how Mrs. Leo Dorfinger of Dunkirk, N. Y., helped her rheumatic pains and her mother's. She says: "I had such pain in my legs and knees. I heard about Muscle-Rub and got a bottle. Now I feel like a new person. My mother, 77 years old, has Rheumatism in her fingers, shoulders and arms. I used Muscle-Rub on her and in 20 minutes the pains were relieved. I will never be without my Muscle-Rub."

Your druggist has Muscle-Rub in stock right now, so if you are suffering pain, get a bottle today. Muscle-Rub is a doctor's formula and is an external treatment. And it's sold on this guarantee: If just half a bottle doesn't bring relief, you get your money back. Get Muscle-Rub today.

Lawyer Who Defended Campbell Dies at 59

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—James C. Webster, 59, Larchmont, N. Y., lawyer, who represented the late Borah M. Campbell in action clearing Campbell's name of a criminal charge, collapsed in his Lexington avenue office yesterday and died a short time later.

Office associates told police Webster had been suffering from a heart ailment. Webster, acting for Campbell, petitioned Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to release Campbell from jail immediately after another man had confessed the forgeries for which Campbell served three years and four months in Sing Sing.

Later Webster sued the state and collected $115,000 for Campbell as compensation for the time spent in jail.

Webster had been a practicing attorney in New York city since his graduation from Columbia University law school in 1916.

Train Travel Rates Increase in State

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Rates for train travel inside New York state go up today.

Under a recent authorization by the State Public Service Commission, one-way coach rates rise from two-and-a-half to three cents a mile.

Comparable increases in first-class fares and on round-trip tickets are included in the new schedules.

However, commuter ticket rates are not affected.

Neither are interstate train fares, which were increased by action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Tickets bought at former rates will be honored until their normal expiration dates.

Jap Reds Are in Red

Tokyo, Aug. 11 (AP)—Japan's Communists are in the red. The party newspaper Akahata (Red Flag) told readers today subscriptions to party publications are "approaching complete stoppage."

It appealed for contributions and predicted "powerful action."

leftover. About 35 cents worth of cold lung-gut.

"Ridiculous!" Commissar Slupp exploded. "He had no authority!"

"Well, you are just nuts," Mr. Spelvin said. "Charlie tossed battleships and tanks around like toys. He used to bet his head off on the races, by long-distance phone to Belmont and Hialeah, all on the President's emergency war fund. He would have been a rich man, too, except he always followed Harry Hopkins and that clerk was always betting Herbie Swope's tips or Liz Whitney's. Oh, the beetles that they gave Harry! So Mr. Dunno wound up back of the eight-hill, but of course the emergency fund paid the losses."

"But how could this stranger spend six years in the White House undetected?"

"Easy," Mr. Spelvin answered. "Alec Woollcott came to dinner and they nearly had to burn down the joint to get him out. Look at old Louie Howe. A homesteader! Look at Hopkins. He came for a conference and stayed ten years. What about Dave Niles? What about Joe Lash? If you could stand the chow you could stay indefinitely but of course it didn't do any harm to put the zing on the capitalistic system."

Later today an official statement was issued by a high authority close to the White House, denouncing Mr. Spelvin as a "neurotic and irresponsible witness."

"The ridiculous charge that a pro-American had the run of the White House for more than six years is just another red herring drawn across the trail by the 80th worst Congress," the statement said.

The investigation is continuing. Mr. Spelvin remains under arrest. (Copyright, 1948, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

by Maj. Gen. Leon W. Johnson, commander of the new Third Air Division of B-29 bombers being formed in Britain, and Brig. Gen. T. S. Power, U. S. air attache in England.

The arrival of such high ranking officials caused speculation their visit indicated American determination to keep the air lift going through the winter, if the current Moscow talks fail to break the blockade.

Diplomatic sources in London reported last night that the east-west talks in Moscow had reached the tough bargaining stage. A lid of secrecy remained on official news of the Moscow meetings, but it was apparent the British Foreign Office felt the world would know the outcome by the end of the week.

In Germany "repairs" to the railway link between Berlin and the western zones were reported virtually completed, but there was no sign the Russians would reopen the line.

Reliable sources in Frankfurt said yesterday that Dr. Peter Zenkl, former deputy premier of Czechoslovakia, had been spirited out of his homeland and into the American Occupation Zone in a daring "kidnaping" engineered by the Czech anti-Communist underground.

Zenkl, veteran anti-Communist, was accompanied by his wife.

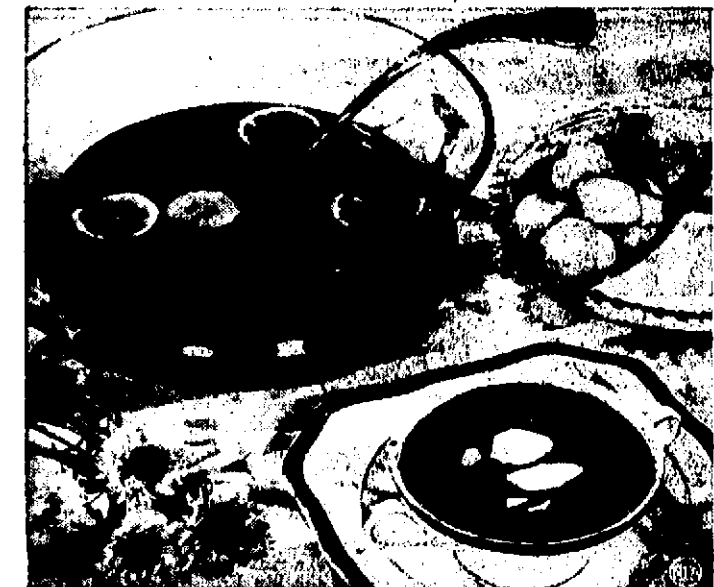

A German policeman from the French sector of Berlin was arrested and jailed today by the Communist-controlled section of the Berlin police force. He was the ninth officer of the Western zone force to be so detained.

The latest man to be arrested had charge of the city's police dog training program. He was taken into custody when he went to the Russian zone to retrieve property he left there before the city police force split in two.

BORSCH IS DELICIOUS, COLORFUL

Cold tomato borsch—a refreshing summer soup.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Here's a brand new recipe for tomato borsch which will air-condition you on the hottest day. Made with thrifty canned tomato cooking sauce and raw beets, it is easy to prepare. You serve it from a glass punch bowl or soup tureen and pass, separately, boiled potatoes, sliced cucumbers, lemon slices and extra sour cream so that each guest can garnish his own.

Tomato Borsch
(Serves 8)

Two 8-ounce cans all-tomato sauce, 1 quart consommé (use canned, freshly made, or make a consommé base with bouillon cubes or concentrated meat paste), 4 raw beets (grated to make about 1 lightly filled cup), 2 onions, grated or finely minced, 1 bay leaf, crushed, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 teaspoons garlic salt, 1 teaspoon plain salt, 1 small cucumber, 1/2 pint sour cream.

Measure into large pot, all-tomato sauce, the consommé, grated beets, minced onions, bay leaf, lemon juice, garlic salt and plain salt. Bring very slowly to boiling. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Peel and grate cucumber; add to soup. Let stand 5 minutes. Strain if desired. Chill. Serve with additional finely sliced cucumber and lemon slices. Top with sour cream.

For torrid nights, here's a cooling porch drink made with green limes:

Splendid Limeade
(Serves 6)

Six limes, 1 1/3 cup sugar, 1 cup water, one 3-inch piece stick cinnamon, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, ice cubes, sparkling water, 1 lime, sliced.

Cut six limes in half; juice. Combine in saucepan sugar, water, stick cinnamon and whole cloves. Place over low heat; stir until sugar is dissolved; simmer 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add lime juice. Fill 6 tall glasses with ice cubes; divide splended lime-mixture between the glasses. Fill glasses with sparkling water. Garnish each glass with slice of lime.

TOMORROW'S MEAT

Maybank Wins . . .

Like Goff, Republican incumbent John C. Sanborn is unopposed. Idaho's senatorial candidates of both parties were nominated with no opposition. They are the present Republican senator, Henry C. Dworshak, and State Supreme Court Justice Bert H. Miller.

In the South Carolina congressional races, Rep. James P. Richards took a lopsided victory over Attorney Roy Cohn, but another incumbent, Rep. J. Riley, trailed State Legislator Hugo S. Sims, Jr.

A stiff fight developed over the House seat vacated by Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn, who ran second to Maybank in the senatorial contest. Four men battled to succeed Dorn, with none having a majority. Lawyer James B. Hare faced a runoff in two weeks against runner-up John C. Taylor, a former congressman.

Reps. L. Mendel Rivers, Joseph R. Bryson and John L. McMillan were unopposed.

The South Carolina primary was highlighted by the heaviest negro voting in years, as the result of a recent federal court decision which admitted negroes to membership in the Democratic party.

Arkansas Rep. J. W. Trimble beat out Charles B. Ivy, who was seeking Trimble's House seat. Senator John J. McClellan was renominated without opposition.

ury's interest-upting action as a step in the right direction.

"By itself," he said, "that action is not going to lower prices but it should help by curtailing the present expansion of credit."

Pepper said he believes the government hesitated to boost interest rates on any of its securities because that adds to the cost of carrying the national debt.

"What this action amounts to is the payment of an indirect subsidy by the government, through higher interest rates, in an effort to help keep prices down," he said.

Orpheum Reopens Thursday

This is how the Orpheum Theatre, Broadway and Spring street, will look to theatregoers who attend the reopening of the popular downtown movie house, Thursday. A new celotex ceiling has replaced the plaster one that crashed during a thunder and lightning storm July 5 and considerable redecorating has been done. New seats have been installed, too, in the section of the theatre where the plaster dropped, crushing the old ones. Manager Dave Sherry told a reporter, "We are ready to cater to our patrons again, and intend to run the same sort of popular movies and features that have satisfied theatregoers for the past 35 years." The new ceiling was put up by Slover, Jansen & Schline, local contracting firm. (Freeman Photo)

Health for All

HAY FEVER

Those who think that a hay fever victim's attack of sneezing is a cue for smiles are ill-advised.

Hay fever is no laughing matter. In addition to the uncontrollable sneezing, burning throat, running nose and weeping eyes, the sufferer may have his general health undermined through loss of sleep and appetite. Hay fever can also lead to infection of the sinuses, throat and bronchial tubes and is sometimes accompanied by asthma.

Hay fever is an allergy, or sensitivity, to pollen, dust or other substances which affects the eyes and nasal passages.

The allergy known as perennial hay fever, which can strike at any time of the year, is sensitivity to house dust, animal hair, feathers or certain foods. Seasonal hay fever is caused by certain pollens in the air. As its name implies, it comes during the season when the plant which causes it is in bloom. Spring hay fever, caused by pollen from certain trees, is prevalent during April, May and June. Summer hay fever, coming with the spread of pollen from such grasses as timothy and redtop, starts at the end of May and continues until the middle of July.

The most widespread type of hay fever is caused by ragweed pollen. Known as fall hay fever, it lasts from about the middle of August to the time of the first frost in fall.

Hay fever is serious enough to call for medical treatment. Its victim should consult his family doctor for relief. The doctor may prescribe treatment or he may send the patient to an allergy specialist.

By a series of allergy tests, the doctor may discover what substance is causing the hay fever and then prescribe specific remedies that may partially or completely cure the sufferer's sensitivity.

There are vaccines that prevent or make milder certain types of hay fever, and the doctor may recommend a series of injections with one of them during the months before the hay fever season begins. Injections during the attack may also bring relief. Removing pollen from the air, particularly in the sufferer's sleeping room, is another form of treatment. For this the doctor may advise an air filter, perhaps in an air-conditioning unit, or an electric pollen remover. Or he may suggest a filter mask or small filter which can be worn in the nose.

There are also medicines and drugs used in treating hay fever. These drugs, of course, should never be used except under medical advice. Those who are using old prescriptions to relieve hay fever should ask the doctor about some of the improved remedies which have been discovered more recently.

Comet Heads

The head of a comet is believed to be a large collection of meteoric matter, of sizes ranging from that of sand grains to masses as large as the meteorites which sometimes strike the earth.

There are 3,000 sweat glands in each square inch of a man's palm.

Fresh Lettuce

Green leafy garden lettuce, richer in Vitamin A and C than the pale heads, does not keep as long as market head lettuce. Pick enough for a one or two-day supply. A good time to gather it is in the early morning after the night has given the leaves a chance to revive from the sun- shine and heat of the day before. In an icebox, keep lettuce next to the ice.

Called Art Window Menace

Park, 10—Lovers of French art are awaiting for removal of the Chartres air-dome, whose landing strips are less than 450 yards from the towers of the world-famous Chartres cathedral. They were supported in a recent letter from Education Minister Edouard Delcroix to Air Minister Andre Maroselli. It is said that the mere passage of a big bomber at a low altitude would endanger treasured stained-glass windows by the vibration of its motors. The windows, removed to safety during the war, have now been replaced in large part.

Protection Guaranteed

Washington, Aug. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today made it plain the American government will protect any individual testifying in the Communist spy investigation if he complies with United States laws.

House on Former Brickyard Burns

An unoccupied house on property that was formerly Goldrick's lower brickyard at Ulster Landing was destroyed by fire last night.

The house, owned by Joseph Nagy of Ulster Landing, was being razed for lumber and part of its upper floor had been torn down, according to Acting Fire Chief LeRoy Boice of Ulster Hose Co.

The fire was discovered shortly before 10 p. m., the chief said, and it was beyond control when the firemen arrived. Another house and two small buildings near the structure were saved by the firemen with one line of hose.

Acting Chief Boice said that Nagy estimated his loss at about $1,200. Origin of the blaze was undetermined.

Many of the firemen of Ulster Hose Co. were at a carnival on Albany avenue extension only a short distance from the firehouse at the time of the call and were able to get to the truck without loss of time, the acting chief said.

Minister Asks World Honor Hymn Composer

London, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Rev. H. J. Garland, Methodist clergyman who makes a hobby of observing anniversaries associated with familiar hymns, wants the world to sing "Nearer, My God, to Thee" next Sunday.

It will be the 100th anniversary of the death of the unhappy woman who wrote it—Sarah Flower Adams. She died in London at 43, and her grave in the Essex village of Harlow is all but forgotten.

The clergyman's researches established that Sarah Flower Adams was a friend of the poet Robert Browning. Her life was saddened by political persecutions endured by her father, Benjamin Flower, a Liberal editor.

Sentence Is Postponed

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Sentencing of Mrs. Nancy Fletcher Choremil and Margaret Starr on their convictions in vice cases was postponed today by Magistrate Arthur Markewich until September 13. On that date Madeleine Blavier is scheduled to be sentenced on a similar conviction. Mrs. Choremil, 27, says she is the daughter of C. Paul Fletcher, U.S. consul general in Casablanca. Her counsel today asked withholding of judgment and conviction and for dismissal of the case, claiming the facts did not constitute a crime and that conviction was contrary to the law. He said he would appeal the case to special sessions court. Mrs. Choremil was convicted of loitering for the purposes of prostitution.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

Last night, as I was sitting in Lindy's pondering the fate of the world and the double feature, Mike Romano walked in. I wig-wagged a waiter to bring an order of cherry cheesecake.

"Hello, tall, dark and flatfooted," I said as the detective eased into my booth.

"Stop making cracks about my arches," said Mike. "I've been on a case for 16 hours and I'm in no mood for hum jokes."

"Which desperado are you trailing this time," I asked. "The bubble-gum thief of P.S. 44?"

"I'm after a murderer," said Romano, "and I expect to nab him before morning."

"Goodie, goodie," I said. "Reconstruct the crime for me, scream by scream."

"Well," said the detective, "at eight o'clock yesterday morning a showgirl was found dead in a midtown apartment hotel. She had been stabbed with a silver letter-opener. The hallmarks on the weapon were those of an English silversmith named Storr."

"Paul Storr," I filled in, "silversmith to George the Third."

"That's the fellow," said Mike. "How come you've heard of him?"

"I once bought some of his stuff at auction," I said. "But tell me about the dame."

"Well," said the detective, "we talked to the manager and elevator boys, but nobody knew much about her. Her only visitor was a gent who used to drop in once a week, and leave ten minutes later."

"Sounds like a bill collector," I said.

"Or a fellow who was being blackmailed," said Romano. "The showgirl might have known something about his past and was being paid off to keep quiet."

"Did you get a description of the man?" I asked.

"He was a smallish gent," said Mike, "chubby around the middle and he had a funny habit of humming when he was thinking."

"What other clues did you find in her apartment?"

"A pad with some shorthand notes," said Romano. "I figured they're his because we checked and found they never taught shorthand in the school the girl went to."

"Did you have the notes transcribed?" I asked in my best Baker Street manner.

"Yes," said the detective, "one of the boys at the Department writes Gregg. They was a reminder to phone somebody in Los Angeles about a show that was opening there."

"What else did you find out?"

"He wasn't a drinking man," said Mike. "There were two glasses on the piano. One had the remains of a highball, the other an inch of cherry soda."

"Maybe it was the man who went for the hard stuff," I said.

"Judging by the rim of the highball glass, it wasn't," said the detective. "That is, unless he used lipstick."

"I sat back and tried to think of someone who fitted the description of the murderer. He was in show business, a small man with two tummies, a teetotaler, a shorthand writer and a Paul Storr fancier. Who would it be? Max Gordon? Guthrie McClintic? One of the Shuberts?"

"I noticed Romano watching me closely. 'You must be thinking deep thoughts,' he said. 'You're humming.'"

"If this is a joke, flatfoot," I said, "I don't think it's very funny."

"Easy does it," said Romano quietly. "Where were you yesterday morning at eight?"

"In my apartment at the Ziegfeld," I said.

"Any witnesses?"

"No," I said. "Eleanor's in the country. I bunk at the theatre during the summer, Monday through Friday."

"I ought to send you to the chair," grinned Mike, "but for old times' sake, I'm only going to fine you an extra order of cherry cheesecake. In the future, be careful whom you call flatfoot."

"If you ad libbed that plot," I said, "you ought to write a column yourself."

"Mike lit a cigar as big as a billyclub. 'What do you think I've been doing the last ten minutes?' he said."

Save Children Unit Will Help Navajos

New York, Aug. 12 (AP)—Aid to 25,000 children of Navajo Indian Reservations is planned under a new program sponsored by the Save the Children Federation.

The new project was outlined yesterday by the man who will head it, Dr. H. Claude Hardy, a federation vice president and formerly superintendent of schools at White Plains, N. Y.

He said the U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs has approved the program which will include sponsorship of schools for Navajo children.

"Material and welfare aid supplementing that given by the Federal Government will be given to those schools according to their needs," Hardy said.

He said the project is an extension of the federation's program through which it sponsors 1,063 schools for 41,000 children in rural areas of southern states.

Can Still Take Care

Chicago, Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Alice King, 94-year-old baby-sitter, was free today to take care of herself—and to see movies undisturbed. She told women's court that she had been "taking care of myself for 75 years and I think I can take care of myself now." The occasion for her court appearance was a disorderly conduct charge. The occasion for the charge came when she bopped a couple of kids in the movie when they wouldn't take their feet off her seat. Judge William V. Daly dismissed the charge.

Guard Annexation

"possibilities of modern warfare require that we have forces ready for immediate action, ready for quick deployment overseas to keep away from our own territory and ready for prompt use at home if any enemy should penetrate our defenses by force or by stealth."

But on the other hand, the board said the National Guard exceeds peacetime military requirements of the states and "with its combat organization and powerful armament is not suitable for state missions involving riot or other civil uprisings."

To replace the Guardsmen, the report proposed that the states set up a new type guard unit "to meet important local demands of war in the atomic age and the techniques of the fifth column." Built somewhat on the order of the British "Home Guards," the new state guard would be composed of deferred men and those ineligible for regular military service for over-age or other reasons.

Bill Is Filed

Paris, Aug. 11 (AP)—A bill was filed with the National Assembly today that would require French newspapers to limit all crime stories to 20 lines. These could never appear on the front page, and would bear only the headline "Diverse Facts"—under the measure sponsored by M.R.P. deputy Jean-Marie Louvel. The bill, which few legislators thought had any chance of passage would ban crime photographs entirely.

Takes Post in Liberia

KEN E. DOUGLAS

Ken E. Douglas of Charlotte Place East, this city, was scheduled to arrive at an airport in Liberia, Tuesday in a plane of the Liberian International Airways, Ltd., which recently inaugurated an airline between nations on the Continent of Africa.

The local pilot left from a metropolitan port August 4, as one of three first pilots to be put in service by the line and it was expected that a fourth will join the line later. The pilot's wife and Mr. and Mrs. David Byrne, of this city, saw him off on the trip.

Mrs. Douglas said today she and her sons, Kenneth and William expect to join her husband in Liberia in six months. Planes of the airline will cover a 2,800-mile route, touching Dakar in French West Africa, Monrovia, the capital of Liberia and Leopoldville in the Belgian Congo. A ceremony dedicating the airline was held in New York's La Guardia Field last month and Ken tered about one of the line's three DC-3's, "The African Star." Dr. Frederick A. Price, consul general of Liberia in New York, then presented licenses to the line's new pilots: Douglas of this city; Fred H. Syphert of Essex Falls, N. J., chief pilot, and Ken Wagner of Freehold, N. J.

The line plans five round trips a week in the African territory; two cargo and three passenger. It will connect at Dakar with Air France and at Leopoldville with Sabena.

The local pilot, a native of Fort Even, was in the service three years during World War 2. He served eight months overseas with the Air Transport Command, mostly in north African territory. He had learned flying while in Georgia and during the early months of his service, he taught army flying at Albany, Ga.

"The African Star" was serviced at Teterboro Airport in New Jersey for its flight to Africa.

Find Den of ViceIn Swank Apartment

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Five women were arrested early today after a raid on a duplex apartment just off Fifth avenue which a police official said was one of the most luxurious houses of prostitution discovered in the city in recent years.

Police said the establishment charged "up to $100 and more."

The apartment at 14 East 65th street has a bar on the lower of its two floors. A private elevator connects with the street entrance of the six-story limestone building.

Mirrored walls, expensive antiques, oil paintings and fine furniture give the place a lavish look.

Telephone wire tapping—legal in New York state—was employed by police in three-week investigation which followed complaints. Police said no men were found in the apartment when they raided it shortly before midnight.

The prisoners, booked early today on morals charges, included a middle-aged woman named as the operator, three young women and a negro maid.

A woman who identified herself as Jane Reynolds, 48, was charged with keeping and maintaining a house of prostitution.

Charges of loitering for the purpose of prostitution were lodged against three prisoners who identified themselves as Julia Ludolph, 35, of 28 East 70th street; Patricia Murphy, 26, of 111 West 46th street, and Marjorie Hamilton, 21, of the Manhattan Towers, West 76th street and Broadway. The three gave their occupation as "model."

The negro maid, booked as Dell Ellis, 34, of 460 Manhattan avenue, was charged with aiding and abetting in prostitution.

'Our Town' Given By Bard Company

Thornton Wilder's 'Our Town' opened last night at the Bard College Playhouse, Annandale-on-Hudson, before a large and receptive audience. The play, Bard's last presentation of this season, will continue with nightly performances through Saturday at 8:30.

'Our Town' is a play which has already proved itself and needs no introduction to American theatre-goers. Outstanding in Bard's production of this play were Robinson Stone as stage manager and narrator; Betty Lou Evans as Mrs. Gibbs; Jerry Seales as George Gibbs; Pamela Rivers as Emily Webb; Harlan Endsley as Dr. Gibbs and Katherine Knight as Mrs. Webb.

The most delightful portrayal of the evening in a supporting role was that of Ann Avery, a young student at the Red Hook Central School, who took the part of Rebecca Gibbs.

With one unfortunate exception, the players were all well cast in their roles. The exception was that of Roy Carcaud as Mr. Webb, editor of the Grovers Corner Sentinel. This is not to discredit him personally for he turned in a good performance, but by no stretch of the imagination could one think of this youthful-appearing actor as an oldtime newspaper editor and father of a 17-year-old daughter. Perhaps some white powder in his hair would have helped.

Others who appeared in the play included Woody Klose, Arnold Cohn and Edward Eisenberg, Red Hook residents; Al Haulen-beck and Robert Andrews, Bard students; and Randall Brooks, Ellen Martin, Lew Danis, Jane Conway, Arthur DeBau, Marshall Yokelson and Neil Burger. Dorothy Hayes was organist.

Elissa Landi Is Well Received in Woodstock Play

Woodstock, Aug. 11 — Ulster county's Elissa Landi received an enthusiastic reception from her neighbors Tuesday evening in her opening performance with Herschel Bentley of "Theatre" by Guy Bolton and Somerset Maugham. The play will continue through Sunday.

Expecting the well-known grip the theatre gets upon those with real ability, and many without it, Miss Landi portrays the actress who, though aging, refuses to accept it easily and whose determination to prove to her ex-husband and her pupils that she is still the leading actress, lets nothing interfere with her goal.

As Julie Lambert, the celebrated actress, Elissa Landi has a real feeling for her part. She is ably assisted by Bentley, who as her actor husband, Michael Gosselyn, does a convincing job as he goes about the managing of his wife's theatre activities. In the supporting roles, Ruth Lorn as Evie, Miss Landi's maid introduces much of the comedy, and does her best work so far this season. Others in the supporting roles are Louis Frederick, Mr. Perkins; Michael Sivy, Roger Gosselyn; Clement Bruce, Tom Fennel; William Oliver, Jovins; Althea Murphy, Dolly De Vries; Michael Linenthal, Lord Charles; Virginia Romley, Avico Crichton; Arthur Schmeier, stage manager; and Joseph Leon, sergeant.

On the whole the play is interesting and well done. Miss Landi, as well as playing the leading role, directed the presentation.

Elbert Heschong designed the settings for this three-act, six-scene play.

New 2,000 Horsepower Diesel Arrives Here

Delivery of a 2,000-horsepower diesel locomotive to the North Yard enginehouse recently brings the roster of diesel locomotives for local use to full strength, it was announced today.

The new locomotive is rated at 2,000-horsepower which gives it double the rating of the other seven diesels now in use on the Wallkill Valley and Catskill Mountain branches of the New York Central System. The locomotive was built by Fairbanks-Morse, and is numbered 7101.

Diezelsation of the local railroad branches was begun at the first of the year, and all trains are currently being hauled by the diesel locomotives.

A fully charged battery will not freeze.

Activities Conclude At Triangle Acres End of This Week

Activities are concluding this week at the Y.W.C.A. camp Triangle Acres located in Fish Creek. For six weeks girls from Kingston, Hudson, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and the surrounding area have been enjoying the facilities and program offered at the camp, stated Miss Jeanne DuBois, director. There have been approximately 70 different girls at the camp during the season. The majority have spent at least two weeks although many have been at camp for three weeks.

Emphasis has been placed on group activities. As the campers arrive at camp they are assigned to a living unit composed of girls their own age and under the supervision of a counselor. These groups participate in activities during the week according to schedule set up by the director and her staff. Each camper has an opportunity to participate in each of the activities offered and so can become acquainted with all the skills offered by the staff of counselors.

The program has varied somewhat during the weeks according to the age group of the campers.

Every morning campers participate in Kapers which is the name assigned to the particular job each camper does to help the camp run more smoothly. They include washing dishes, helping the cook, cleaning up the grounds around the camp, setting up tables and serving at mealtimes. This is an innovation at Triangle Acres and has been well accepted by the campers.

Clover Cottage, located just beyond the Dormitory, has been used to house the Polka Dot store.

and the Putter Shoppe. The former is a popular spot just after dinner when campers gather there to purchase stationery, stamps, camp T shirts, Memory Books, and other items which they may have neglected to purchase, before coming to camp. The Putter Shoppe has been one of the most popular spots at camp this year for that is where campers meet for crafts. Some of the articles made were wooden jewelry boxes, tie racks, trays and coasters, bookends, salad sets, napkin rings, belts and bracelets, leather key cases, wrist purses, cigarette cases, crepe paper coasters, yarn mats, birch bark napkin rings, pot holders, Christmas cards, and wrappings, decorated sprinklers, waste paper baskets, flower vases. The Crafts Shoppe was under the supervision of Miss Frances Barnhart, assisted by Miss Elma Smith, who was in charge of the Polka Dot Store.

Nature walks have been popular, too. Miss Barnhart pointed out to the campers how to recognize various trees, flowers, clouds, insects, water animals and plants.

The waterfront, in charge of Miss Ruth Miller of Yonkers, N. Y., was another popular camp spot, especially on hot days. Many of the campers learned to swim or to improve the strokes they already knew. At the end of each week a swimming meet was held where campers competed as group members to win points for their groups.

Miss Blossom Barnett was the program specialist in charge of music and dancing. Included in her activities were interpretative, dancing, ballet, modern dancing, tap, informal dramatics. Each week during their dancing periods campers learned a special number to present to the entire camp at evening program. Judges determined the number of points to be given to each group.

Sports were also included on the program under the supervision of Miss Audrie Stinger, the assistant director. Instruction was given in archery, tennis, badminton, ping pong, shuffleboard, darts, bowling in order that campers might learn the basic techniques of each and then concentrate on several for tournament competition. During the first three weeks archery tournaments were very popular with the older campers and proved especially interesting to spectators as well.

The Triangle Tattle Tale, the weekly camp publication for campers, was another innovation this year. Campers reported on camp activities during the week and the paper was mimeographed at the Y office. Miss Stinger was adviser for the paper.

Evening programs, planned by counselors with several of the campers, have been varied in form. They include scavenger hunts, dramatics night, talent shows, quiz programs, square dances, costume or dress nights, progressive games. Saturday evening campfires have been held at the Council Fire Circle located in the woods near the waterfront. These campfires have proved to be most impressive to campers and usually conclude with campers participating in camp songs as they return to the dormitory for the night.

Wednesday noon cookouts at the waterfront spot have been a regular feature. Campers have learned the fundamentals of fire building for preparing different types of dishes.

Campers have been served varied, well-balanced meals in the dining room. Planning and cooking was done by the camp cook, Mrs. Ethel Campbell, assisted by Miss Joan Krueger.

Camp will close for the season Saturday, August 14. Parents may call for their children between 2 and 4 p. m. A special closing ceremony is being planned for Friday evening by the camp council.

Ulster Garden Club Holds Meeting at Winnisook Club

About 30 members of the Ulster Gardens Club were entertained Tuesday at the Winnisook Club. The members first met at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodle for cocktails and then enjoyed luncheon at the lodge. A business meeting followed.

Several members of the Winnisook Club joined the group at the cabin.

The club holds considerable sentimental interest for members of the Ulster Gardens Club. In 1887 the late Thomas E. Benedict, father of Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Sr., founded Winnisook Club and the late Judge Alton D. Parker was the club's first president.

Mrs. Schoonmaker is one of the charter members of Ulster Gardens Club. Fathers of several members of the Ulster Gardens Club have been president of Winnisook Club.

Cancer Society Plans To Spend $3,500,000

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—The American Cancer Society plans to spend more than $3,500,000 during the coming year in financing cancer research.

The money will go to scientists and institutions throughout the United States.

In announcing the plans yesterday, Douglas Poteat, executive vice president of the society, said "research is producing more leads than at any time in history" toward finding a cure for the disease.

"It is impossible to predict when we will beat cancer," he added, "but there is a definite feeling that we are getting there."

The society yesterday awarded 201 individual grants and 46 fellowships totaling $2,081,510 to research scientists in 86 hospitals, laboratories and universities throughout the United States.

It also awarded 18 institutional grants totaling $1,052,438 directly to colleges and hospitals "to be used on research projects promising in nature and in urgent need of funds."

Additional grants to be made later will bring the total society funds to be spent on research in nature and in urgent needs of funds.

Poteat said the cancer campaign, which has three weeks to go, has raised $12,600,000 this year compared with $12,126,875 in 1947.

Berlin's population dropped from about four million to about two million after World War 1.

Mrs. Terwilliger Feted At Birthday Luncheon

Mrs. Helen G. Terwilliger was guest of honor at a birthday luncheon today at Julie's given by Mrs. Daniel Levy. The luncheon was served as a reunion of Mrs. Levy's former school friends, many of whom Mrs. Terwilliger taught at School No. 3.

Those present were Mrs. Mary Abrams Cooper, Mrs. Florence Schuster Powell, Mrs. Eva Goldmann Feldman, Mrs. Cecil Beloff Jacobson, Mrs. Sally Kantrowitz Silk, Mrs. Ida Lipkin Epstein and Miss Jean Terwilliger.

Billy Rose Offers to Run Opera, Make It Pay

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Showman Billy Rose has offered to take over the financially shaky Metropolitan Opera, and guarantee he can make it pay.

The diminutive nightclub proprietor, columnist and radio commentator says he would streamline the Met's productions a bit, but would preserve the traditions of grand opera.

This offer was disclosed yesterday as last-minute efforts were being made to reverse a decision by Metropolitan directors to cancel the 1948-49 opera season.

In a letter to George A. Sloan, chairman of the Met's board of directors, Rose said he would "undertake the operation of the Metropolitan Opera House for one season, and personally guarantee it against deficit."

Sloan replied that the board would consider the offer "at the first opportunity."

The Met ran a deficit last season and announced recently it would not open this season because it could not meet union demands.

Meanwhile, officials of the opera association planned to meet this week with heads of the various artist and opera workers unions in a move by the unions to alter the shutdown plan.

It's All Over Now

Bethany, Conn., Aug. 11 (AP)—A giant size lollipop became stuck in the throat of seven-year-old Floyd Smith. State police made a quick 13-minute automobile dash with the boy to New Haven Hospital. When he got there, Floyd removed the stick from his mouth. The lollipop had melted.

Murtagh Cites Collision Among 3 Milk Companies

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Indication of collusive bidding by three major milk companies to divide $2,000,000 a year contracts for municipal institutions was reported yesterday by City Investigation Commissioner John M. Murtagh.

Murtagh said analysis of bids pointed at collusive bidding by the Borden Company, Sheffield Farms, Inc., and the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association.

Francis R. Elliott, president of the Borden's Farm Products Division of the Borden Company, said later in a statement that "any reference to collusion is preposterous."

Denying "any suggestion of collusion in this or any other matter," Elliott said:

"Records will establish that this business has been awarded to numerous milk dealers. The city's method of competitive bidding for city institutions cannot but insure the most vigorous competition."

Sheffield and the Dairyman's League had no immediate reply to the probe's statement, which was given to newsmen at the end of the second day of his formal inquiry into rising milk prices.

Murtagh said 37 city institutions are involved in the bidding, and that collusion at least as far back as 1940 is suspected.

Reporting a possibility that Federal and State Anti-Trust laws have been violated, Murtagh said he would turn his information over to both U. S. and state authorities.

Goes Beyond Purchasing

Murtagh said the possible significance of his finds concerning successful bids for various classes of institutions "would go much further than the matter of city purchasing. It would corroborate the feeling that there is collusion throughout the New York city market."

The investigator, who previously had assailed discounts given by Sheffield and Borden to certain retail store chains in the city, said:

"I am interested in determining whether the large discounts allowed to certain stores or chain stores are passed on to the public or whether they merely result in excessive profits to these concerns."

Both companies have declared there is nothing illegal or improper in discounts under certain conditions.

Elliott's statement said in part: "Any reference to collusion is utterly preposterous. City contracts are submitted each month to sealed public bid by any milk company. Such bids are open to public inspection, and the lowest bidder gets the business."

"There are several hundred milk companies in the city, and dozens of them are in a position to serve city institutions."

Peace Fight Terrific

Tokyo, Aug. 11 (AP)—A fight over the peace celebration commemorating the August 15 surrender anniversary is terrific. Some 30 Japanese women's clubs got together to observe the anniversary. They all agreed the motif should be peace. Then the fight started. Every club wanted to put up someone for chairman. The fight may be over in time for the peace celebration—provided the clubwomen got together on one of the three leading candidates still in the squabble.

Port Chester Clippers End Colonial Streak at Four Straight, 5-1

Fritz Scores 11th Victory; Home Stand Closes Tonight

Al Schacht, baseball's funny man, completed his act and 1500 spectators cheered last night at municipal stadium.

Bob Fritz of the Port Chester Clippers took over and the situation ceased to be humorous—either for the fans or the Colonials.

Fritz, who is rapidly developing into one of the best flingers in the Colonial circuit, hogtied the streaking Colonials with seven scattered hits to notch his 11th victory of the season. He did it by squeaking away from a big inning or doling out free tickets indiscriminately.

4-Game Streak Snapped

Kingston's four game winning streak went by the boards and they dropped back into the cellar as the result of Stamford's victory over Waterbury. The series ends tonight with a single game at 8:30. Larry Cuvel or Paul Wargo will pitch for the Clippers with Mahlon "Red" Turner, the likely Colonial choice.

Big Dave Cashion pitched adequately but in the face of Fritz's superior performance it wasn't good enough. The right hander collected two hits. Three snappy double plays helped Fritz along. He had his biggest score in the sixth when he got Max Goldsmith on a fly to left and Max Jaeger on a grounder to first with the bases loaded.

Score Steadily
With one out in the ninth "Digger" Odell rifled a double along the third base line and Bud Palmer singled to right. Laviano jammed into a game ending double play.

The Clippers scored steadily after the third. Joe Gall's single, a couple of errors and a completed double play set up a 4-0 Clipper lead in the fifth. Three successive singles by Rowe, Enos and Barillari scored the third run in the sixth. Two more came across in the seventh on hits by Rutkey and Rowe, a stolen base, Palmer's error and a long fly.

COLONIAL CLIPPER: Clipper infield showed championship hustle and sparkle. The way Rutkey pops off at the tumps, he should have a bright future as a carnival barker or politician. Rowe, Rutkey, Enos, Barillari and Gall each had two hits for the winners. Barillari, the Clipper pilot, has a long minor league record.

Paul Wargo, who doubles as right fielder for the leaders, is one of the best hurlers in the loop. Few pitchers can hit with big Dave Cashion, Colonial flinger who is called "Bob" by his teammates. Julie Laviano got a single and hit the ball solidly in the first. Max Goldsmith says that if Julie, who celebrated his 35th birthday yesterday, is "The Gent" Manager Ed Kobesky expected back in the lineup tonight. If Guy Coleman or Wargo goes tonight the fans will see more topflight hurling. Fritz made a nice comeback after being felled by a line drive off the bat of Johnny Elenchin. The ball caromed off Fritz's stomach and laid him out cold for a few minutes in the eighth. Dr. Douw Meyers responded to the call for a doctor. After tonight, there will be no home game until Monday. The Town of Olive Chamber of Commerce was on hand again with three prizes. "Digger" Odell won $5 in cash for a double.

The boxscore:
Port Chester Clippers (5)

League Will Meet
An important meeting of the City Softball League will be held Thursday at the Y.M.C.A. at 7:30 p. m. It is important that all teams be represented. Plans will be discussed for two more benefit games for players who were injured in recent league play. Five injuries have been reported in the past two weeks.

Jones Dairy and Franks Tie 4-4 in Two League

The pennant-bound Jones Dairy nine wouldn't object at all if members of Frank's Sport went off on a picnic anytime the City League schedule commands a meeting between the two. As a matter of fact they probably would help defray the expenses of the outing.

Yesterday the Dairyemen confidently figured to knock off the Sportsmen for their ninth win in 12 starts. Instead they settled for a 4-4 tie and were glad to get it—a forced-in run in the sixth.

Joe Chick and Big Jack Watzka doled out 12 hits while Frank's collected only four off Billy Windburn but a bad case of fielding jitters didn't help the Dairyemen cause. So the two clubs, already having engaged in two ties, will have to do it all over again.

Four Run Rally
Frank's staged a four-run up-rising in the second when they punched three of four hits and the Dairyemen contributed three costly errors. Windburn was alright after that but the Joneses had an uphill battle on their hands.

Tiano started the rally with a single to right and scored on Olen's double to left. Olen reaching third when Van Derzee threw wildly to home trying to head off Tiano. DeCicco walked a stolen second and Olen scored when Zadany's throw went into center field. Martino's single chased DeCicco across and the former dribbled through Maines' legs. Two infield outs brought him across.

Tying Run Forced
Jones Dairy cut the lead in half with a pair in the third. Van Derzee's double and Ashdown's single netted a run. Ashdown went to third on the throw to the plate and scored on a long fly by Schatzel.

In the fourth Millie Berardi's single, a passed ball and Van Derzee's safety made it 4-3. Chick forced in the tying run by walking Mines with the bases loaded. Neither team threatened in the seventh.

Van Derzee led Joneses with three hits but committed three errors in the field. Ashdown, Celuch, Zadany, A. Berardi each hit safely twice for the Dairyemen. Olen of Frank's had a single and double.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

Nine teams are still in the running for the major league flags today as the greatest of all baseball campaigns roars past the two-thirds mark.

The list includes Cleveland, Philadelphia, Boston and New York in the American League, and Boston, Brooklyn, St. Louis, New York and Pittsburgh in the National.

Only two and a half games separate the first four clubs in the American, while six and a half games separate the first five teams in the senior circuit.

A's Get Tie
By splitting a twilight night doubleheader with Washington, while the Tigers were defeating the Indians, 7-3, in Detroit, the A's tied Cleveland for first in games won and lost. However, since they've played six more games and could do no better than get an even break in them, the A's trail the Tribe by six percentage points. After the Senators won yesterday's opener, 5-2, the A's came back to win, 11-2.

The Red Sox moved past New York into third place, two games off the pace, by downing the Yankees, 9-6, in New York. The New Yorkers dropped into fourth place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

Giants Edge Braves
The Braves lost ground to each of their pursuers when they were beaten by the Giants in Boston, 6-5. The Dodgers whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2, in Brooklyn to take second place from the Cardinals by a fraction of a point.

In the only other game yesterday, the St. Louis Browns advanced within a game of sixth place by vanquishing the last place Chicago White Sox, 3-1.

Bobby Feller, trying for his 12th victory, went down to his 13th defeat instead when he was clubbed for eight hits and five runs in the six innings he worked. Young Ted Gray of the Tigers struck out 10 in the 7 1/3 innings he pitched to rack up his second victory in as many starts. Pat Mullins' 15th home run in the fifth produced three runs and pinned the loss on Feller.

A crowd of 67,691 saw the Red Sox come from behind with five runs in the eighth to defeat the Yankees. Vern Stephens' double off Vic Raschi with the bases loaded was the big blow. Tex Hughson, pitching in relief, was the winner.

Rees Hits Homer
Trailing 3-0, the Giants scored four runs in the seventh, added two more in the top of the eighth, then staved off a Boston rally in the last half of the inning to win. Pee Wee Rees' home run with two mates aboard in the first inning was all the Dodgers needed to defeat the Phillies as Rex Barney permitted only five hits for his 10th victory.

Ralph Kiner banged a two-run homer in the first inning, his 29th, to get the Pirates off to a good start.

The Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds were not scheduled.

Guy Lombardo Host For Gold Cup Races

Cambridge, Md. Aug. 11 (AP)—One of the biggest power boat races of the year—the Gold Cup Race—comes to this eastern shore town next week-end.

Host is Guy Lombardo, who pounded home first in the event last year and, according to the tradition of the race, acts as host for this year's chase.

The feature race will be run Saturday. It will consist of three heats, six laps each, a total of 90 miles. The maximum lapse of time between heats is one and one-half hours.

Fast Ball Gone, Feller Admits

Cleveland, Aug. 11 (AP)—Baseball fans today could end a dispute which has been raging for the last few years. Bob Feller admits that he has lost his old-time fast ball.

The former teen-age wonder pitcher "sounded the demise of his fireball with this simple statement: 'I throw the ball as hard as I ever did—but it just doesn't travel as fast as it did a few years ago.'

Feller was blasted from the mound at Detroit yesterday when Tiger outfielder Pat Williams hit the 10th-inning clutch served by Bob this season.

Basketball Stars Seek More Medals For U.S. Collection

London, Aug. 11 (AP)—Basketball bounced into the Olympic spotlight today on a program that included eight minor sports from canoe racing to weight lifting.

The United States meets Mexico and Brazil plays France in the basketball semifinals on the rough floor at Harringay Arena.

The Yank Skycrappers are expected to sweep past the Mexicans, the second latest team in the tournament, Brazil is favored over France. The winners meet in the finals Friday night.

Basketball, a U.S.-invented sport, is the Americans' main hope of adding to the host of gold medals won in track, swimming and rowing.

Canoe Prospects Dim
There are only modest expectations that the Yank canoe paddlers can do as well as their rowing brothers.

The canoeists take to the Thames at Henley for the first time today. Four races are in convention.

Canoes—known as "Canadiana"—and five in kayaks, the covered Eskimo craft with cockpits for the paddlers.

Four 10,000 meter races will be decided today. Ray Clark of Washington, D. C., and John Eisman of Chevy Chase, Md., both students at the University of Maryland, vie with 14 other nations in the two-passenger kayak event.

Sicklers Smash Subway Grill Streak at 15 Straight, 6-2

Sickler's Delivery smashed Subway Grill's 15-game winning streak, 6 to 2, Monday at Block Park, while Newcombe Oil racked up its second win of the third round, defeating Scranton Lacs, 7-2, in another important test.

Robbie Hunt shackled the Subway powerhouse with two scattered hits to gain revenge for a three-hit, 1-0, loss two weeks ago. The winners made nine hits off Walt Bigler, "Bul" Murphy led with a double and two singles.

Sickler's scored enough runs in the second inning to win the game, stacking three on a walk to Bud Smith, Murphy's double, Houghtaling's single, an infield out, error and a long fly.

Newcombe's ran up a 6-1 lead over Scranton's to breeze to an easy victory. C. Sickles and Riggin's rapped a triple, while Mike Rienzo poked two doubles for Newcombe's. Rienzo and Riggin's each had two hits for the winners, while V. Sickles and J. Howard had two safeties for Scranton.

Boxer Critical

Philadelphia, Aug. 11 (AP)—Charley Zaack, 22-year-old Dalton, Pa., boxer, was described in "critical condition" today in Temple University Hospital following a brain operation. Zaack suffered a paralysis of the left side after being technically knocked out by Billy Kilroy, of Paterson, N. J., in the ninth round of a bout at Scranton, Pa., last Wednesday.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Joey DeJohn, 15½, Syracuse, stopped Cliff Hart, 14½, Syracuse, 5.

11 Trotters Ready For Hambletonian

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—A field of 11 of the world's finest three-year-old trotters prepared to face the barrier today for the 23rd Hambletonian Stakes.

This ancient old capital of the sport was "jam-packed" with thousands of the racing faithful awaiting the 2 p. m. (E.S.T.) post-time for the classic Harrison Hoyt's Demon Handover is expected to be sent away the favorite.

But many called it the most "wide open" Hambletonian of them all.

With 55 per cent of the $59,941.18 purse going to the horse capturing the best two-out-of-three one-mile heats, a rich $32,500.15 prize awaits the new Hambletonian king. This will be the third richest in history. The inaugural Hambletonian in 1926 grossed $73,451, and the 1928 renewal was worth $66,226.

5,937 Dogs Are Inoculated in Area

The Ulster County Rabies Advisory Council today reported 5,937 dogs now inoculated against rabies. This is 51 per cent of the enumerated dogs in the county, and three days are left to reach the necessary 70 per cent in the free rabies vaccination program.

The council urges all dog owners to bring their dogs to one of the remaining clinics. A total of 2,233 must be vaccinated to reach the goal.

Clinics in Marlborough, Plattekill, Rosendale, Ruby, Bloomington and Wicks Engine Co., Kingston, added 696 to the total. The separate totals were: Marlborough, 235; Plattekill, 100; Rosendale, 112; Ruby, 77; Bloomington, 76 and Kingston (Wicks Engine Co.) 96.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Selling forces hammered away at the stock market again today and leading issues declined fractions to more than a point. Losses in a few cases extended to 4 points or more.

A rush of selling at the opening bell cut into prices, but almost immediately faint signs of resistance developed. This soon faded away and quotations were again marked down.

Turnover was at the fastest rate in a couple of weeks with numerous large blocks of stock appearing on the ticker tape.

Wall Street saw nothing startling in the news to influence selling but apparently found even less on which to base demand. Many offerings of stock were based on "technical" considerations—in this case, the behavior of the stock averages.

Smaller declines were posted for U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Lockport, Schenley, American Electric, Phillips Morris, Owens-Illinois, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Standard Oil (N. J.), Gulf Oil, and Paramount Pictures.

Douglas aircraft was one of the few issues to inch ahead.

In the curb losses running to above a point were posted for Creole Petroleum, Paragon Oil, Northrop Aircraft, Derby Oil, and N. J. Zinc.

Quotation by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city, branch office, 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhout, manager.

Mount Is Captured

Athens, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Greek Army announced the capture of heavily fortified Mount Alevitza today, opening the way for a final offensive against the last major supply route for Communist guerrilla forces. National forces also took the town of 1632, south of Alevitza, of the northeastern Grammos front. Alevitza, a 5,000-foot peak, guarded the guerrilla supply link to Albania by way of Simitissa. Markos Vafandes' guerrillas had defended it stubbornly. Today's fighting also reported heavy fighting on the Grammos southwestern front, around Mount Prophet Elias, in the Oxya area.

known a man by the name of Carl in 1935 and 1936.

Known as Carl

After this refusal, Committee Investigator Robert E. Stripling told the committee that Chambers testified at a secret subcommittee session in New York last Saturday that he was known as Carl, rather than by his right name, when he was active as a Communist in Washington during those years.

Collins said he was born in Philadelphia in 1905 and entered the government service in 1933. He said he served two years in the European Theatre as a military government officer, and received a commendation for his work during the Battle of the Bulge, as well as three ribbons and five battle stars.

His prepared statement protested the committee's investigation methods.

"I resent the fact that my name and the names of others have been defamed by the unfair methods of this committee in publicizing irresponsible accusations," he said.

Says Yanowsky Was Not Named as Killer

New York, Aug. 11 (AP)—Attorney Hyman Barshay said last night an affidavit by "Andrew Sheridan, who is awaiting execution for the slaying of boss Steve-dore Anthony Hinz, named only two men as the actual killers of Hinz.

Barshay is attorney for John M. Dunn, one of two other men sentenced to death in the Hinz slaying who are seeking a new trial on the grounds of Sheridan's affidavit.

Barshay said the affidavit named as the actual killers John Duff, alias John O'Neill, 34-year-old dock checker who died recently, and Jeff Lepore, who was reported missing by his family in Yonkers a year ago.

Barshay said the affidavit did not incriminate Charles Yanowsky, who had been erroneously listed previously as among the killers named by Sheridan.

Yanowsky, the attorney said, was referred to in the affidavit only as a man whom Sheridan had suggested as the possible source of an automobile for Duff and Lepore.

Barshay said the affidavit gave no indication that Yanowsky knew of the plot to kill Hinz.

Yanowsky, described by police as a labor racketeer, was found stabbed to death July 16 at Clifton, N. J.

Sheridan's affidavit stated that Dunn and Daniel Gentile, both now at Sing Sing prison's death house with Sheridan, had no part in the plot or the actual slaying.

General Sessions Judge George L. Donnellan on Monday adjourned until next Monday a hearing on a motion directing the district attorney to show cause why Dunn and Gentile should not get a new trial.

No Explosion Fear

Two or three reports on fire indicated that the truck was going to "drive through" the Hiltzbrant fence, and into the Roundout creek if the flames spread to a point of threatening an explosion. The spokesman for the Lonsdale plant, said, however, that there was "no fear of an explosion."

DuBois, the driver, was accompanied on the truck by Robert Humphrey of Hurley, who, according to reports, was near the rear of the truck when the fire started.

It was reported at the office of the company that the truck was not damaged to any extent by the fire, and reports from all sources, indicated that no one was injured.

thing is wrong. Those suspicions ought to be cleared up one way or another.

McClellan voiced the opinion that the issue of whether there are Communists working inside the government may become one of the two or three biggest issues in the presidential campaign.

Should Cooperate

"President Truman ought to cooperate with us in bringing this thing into the open," he declared.

The Ferguson Committee quit last week, but the House Un-American Activities Committee has gone right back with its sensational-packed hearings.

If the Senate group resumes hearings by mid-September, members say its inquiry might stretch out over most of the campaign before the November election. It thus might keep alive an issue most Republicans think helped take some of the heat off of them during the special session.

Army Major Kills Wife, Then Himself

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 11 (AP)—An army major, who had been seeking a reconciliation with his wife, last night shot and killed her, then took his own life.

Police Inspector Ralph Bader said that Major Thomas L. Morris, 31, shot Mrs. Audrey Morris, 25, as she fled from her home. Bader said the shooting climaxed an hours-long argument between the two in which Morris sought to have Mrs. Morris accompany him to his post in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Tilford Bunge, Jr., the slain woman's brother, said the couple had been married six years but had separated. Their five-year-old daughter, Patricia, was not in the house at the time of the shooting.

Deputy Coroner William Kelly reported a letter in Morris' pocket said the army officer "still loved her. x x x I am sorry I have to do it but it is the only way out."

The letter was addressed to his mother, Mrs. Julia Morris, Desloge, Mo.

Tax Grievance Day Adjourned in Town

Taxpayers' grievance day in the Township of Marlborough was adjourned to August 25 at 10 a. m. after the Marlborough Tax Grievance Association filed about 50 complaints yesterday.

All of the individual complaints will be given due consideration, the board of assessors said. The complaints were filed by Attorney Frank Martocci, representing the association.

The adjournment of grievance day is believed to be the first in the history of the township.

ing in grass and along the road when the firemen arrived, but the fire in the truck was thoroughly checked at the time.

Mrs. James A. Brice, who was with her husband, said that he told the truck and he ran for a shovel to help fight the fire. He told the driver to head toward the creek, she said, and he followed along shoveling sand.

Another woman in the village said her children came screaming from the back yard in fear of the spreading flames and another resident said the fire spread along First street from the post office to a point near the end of the street.

Car Derailed at New Paltz

A Pennsylvania box car loaded with bag cement jumped the track on a passing siding on the Wallkill Valley branch of the New York Central System at New Paltz Tuesday morning, and the steam crane from Kingston was ordered out to clean up the accident.

Train RV 9, a way freight out of Campbell Hall for Kingston, was pulling into the passing siding at the New Paltz station Tuesday when for some undetermined reason the cement laden car jumped the track and damaged both car and track before the train could be halted. The mainline was blocked for a short time with the remainder of the train.

According to a railroad official the freight was in charge of J. P. Murphy, conductor, and J. Birdsall was the engineer. Diesel engine 7101 was pulling the train which was traveling about eight miles per hour at the time of the accident.

There were no injuries reported in the accident, and traffic was restored within a short time, although the wrecking outfit from Kingston worked until evening to lift the damaged car from the rails.

Young Republicans Will Meet With Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—A group of young Republicans from all sections of the nation meets here today to discuss campaign plans with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

The G.O.P. presidential nominee plans to drive to Albany from his farm at Pawling, N. Y., for an afternoon conference (probably about 2:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time) with the Executive Committee of the Young Republican National Federation.

The New York governor also is slated to get together during the day with Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Dewey's return to the state capital is expected to signal a speedup in his activities leading to a formal opening of the campaign probably early next month.

Next Monday and Tuesday he will confer here on the itinerary and the issues with his vice-presidential running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California.

The human brain continually shrinks after the age of about 20 years.

Dickson Is Appointed

Berlin, Aug. 11 (AP)—Benjamin F. Dickson of 135 N. Wakefield St., Arlington, Va., was appointed acting director of the American Military Government's transport division today. He had previously served as chief of the rail branch. In his new post, Dickson succeeds Col. Hans W. Holmer, of Cold Springs, N. Y., who has returned to the U. Conservation Department Worries About Deer

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Like a mother hen fearful for its brood, the State Conservation Department is worried about its deer.

In the face of sky-high meat prices, conservation officials are afraid that some of the 350,000 deer which roam New York's forestlands will end up as illegal meat on the table.

They recalled the big increases in the number of deer and other game animals taken illegally during the wartime and post-war meat shortage.

"What we are worried about now," a conservation official said, is that the same thing is happening because of the high meat prices.

"To meet what he calls 'an unprecedented wave of fish and game law violations,' Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea has ordered game wardens in the field to crack down."

A conservation spokesman said illegal hunting is "an all-year problem."

"We are forced to admit," he said, "that despite our efforts to the contrary, some people are never without venison on the table."
